Jungle Friends Needs Your Help!

Sanctuary seeks caring, compassionate monkey sponsors

In 2009, Jungle Friends gave fourteen more monkeys a new home and new life. Please help us continue their care...make a New Year's resolution now to sponsor one of our new arrivals!

Where's Wendell? With his new monkey friends!

Wendell is an elderly brown capuchin. When he was rescued, he was in very poor health. The fingers on his left hand were broken, raw and misshapen, and his diabetes was out of control. He stayed for some time at another sanctuary until he was well enough to travel to Jungle Friends in October 2009. Wendell is one of the sweetest monkeys you will ever know. Obviously, he has had his share of bad luck, but those days are gone. He now has a loving home and monkey friends... all he needs is a sponsor!

When Carli met Andy, romance bloomed

Carli, a 6½-year-old brown capuchin, found not only a new home but a new love at Jungle Friends! Carli was purchased as a 'service monkey' for Lauren, a young girl with paraplegia. The family soon found that the monkey needed more service than she provided — but they kept Carli as a pet until Lauren's unexpected death. Lauren's mother chose to send Carli to Jungle Friends where she could be with other monkeys at last. Carli first adopted one of the sanctuary dogs as her special pet, but soon realized that monkeys were more interesting — especially boy monkeys. She courted Andy, the biggest, strongest, handsomest fellow in the bunch — and won his heart!

Buttons, Zipper, Kinko & Katie are safe at last

When a monkey breeder decided to sell these little marmosets, a customer was shocked to see them in small, filthy cages, underweight from an inadequate diet. She decided to buy all four, planning to give them a better life — and thinking that she would be able to recoup the $12,000 she'd paid for them by breeding and selling marmosets herself. Then she witnessed babies being "pulled" from their mothers to sell.

"The babies were only days old. The screams and cries of the babies and mothers brought tears to my eyes. The breeder placed the babies on a stuffed animal...they were scared and confused. In the other room, the mothers were calling and calling for their babies. I thought about how I would feel if someone took my newborn baby away from me...All the way home I could not get their cries out of my head. I realized that there was no way I could ever do that. I have never seen anything so cruel."

Instead, she placed all four marmosets in a sanctuary... Buttons and Zipper, Kinko and Katie are now safe from the abuse of the exotic pet trade. They get to live the good life at Jungle Friends!

MAKE IT A MONKEY HOLIDAY

Give the Gift of Charity

Help for the Holidays!

Please support Jungle Friends in our mission to help monkeys in need while fostering a more compassionate world.

There are many ways you can make a difference...

- Join our Sponsor-A-Monkey Program and make a monthly contribution to care for one of our monkeys.
- Make a donation... and ask your employer if they make matching gifts. Many corporations will match gifts that employees give to charity. Your employer may match every dollar you give. Ask your company today and double your donations!
- Be our friend! Check us out on Facebook! This is the best way to get up-to-the-minute monkey news & videos. Become a Jungle Friends Fan and join our Cause. Let your other friends know that you support the Jungle Friends monkeys and ask them to join too!
- Shopping online? Register with iGive or GoodShop and support Jungle Friends with every purchase from hundreds of major online stores—at no extra cost!
- Go websurfing— and earn money for Jungle Friends with every internet search. Use GoodSearch.com, choose Jungle Friends as your charity, and start searching for the monkeys today!
- Volunteer! Volunteers and interns are always welcome, appreciated and needed! Check out the “Opportunities” on our website.
- Put on a fundraiser. Get a group together and have a great time raising money for a great cause. Or, use an online service like Facebook or Firstgiving.com to inspire others to donate.
- Planned Giving. Leave behind a legacy of caring and compassion by making a bequest to Jungle Friends.

The monkeys thank you!
